

LOCATION OF THE MENIANBALA AND DJIDJE PROJECT AREAS, MALI.

The map below shows the locations of the Menianbala and Djidje and other nearby lithium projects. Lithium pegmatites discovered to date are shown as bulls' eyes.

The areas are located about 150km south of the Malian capital, Bamako. Menianbala lies between Birimian's Bougouni Lithium Project and Kodal's permit areas, while Djidje lies south of the Kodal discoveries. Blenheim's directors believe that it is likely that either or both of the areas may host lithium-rich pegmatites. The funds invested by the Company will be part-used to conduct the first phase of exploration during 2017. Blenheim is also conducting its own interpretation of the existing geoscientific data to help locate pegmatites.
